This Week’s

Graduation Reviewing Officer

Master Chief Petty Officer (SW) Patrick Curley Command Master Chief, Naval Hospital Beaufort

Reviewing today’s graduation is Master Chief Petty Officer (SW) Patrick Curley, command master chief, Naval Hospital Beaufort.

Curley enlisted in the U.S. Navy in August 1976, and attended recruit training at Recruit Training Center, Orlando, Fla.

Upon completion of Disbursing Clerk “A” School, he reported to the Fleet Accounting and Disbursing Center Pacific, San Diego, for a special “A” school shore tour from February 1977 to August 1978. In September 1978, he reported onboard the USS Duluth (LPD-6).

After a two-year break in service, Curley re-enlisted in March 1983 and reported to Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 40 and remained there until May 1985. From June 1985 to May 1986 he was assigned to the USS Curtis (FFG-38).

In June 1986, he attended Sonar Technician Class “A” School and was converted to Sonar Technician (Surface) through the selective conversion upon the re-enlistment program.

His next assignment was onboard the USS Paul F. Foster (DD-964) from August 1986 to November 1987. Curley reported to the Fleet Anti-Submarine Warfare Training Center Pacific and served as an instructor from December 1987 to January 1992.

After attending the Navy’s Master Level Acoustic Analysis course, he reported to the USS Halyburton (FFG-40) in Charleston, S.C., until April 1996.

Upon completion of this assignment, Curley reported to the Bureau of Naval Personnel, serving as the Surface Sonar Technician enlisted detailer until August 1998.

After completing a two-year tour, he returned to sea duty onboard the USS Spruance (DD-963) until May 2000.

After his selection into the Command Master Chief program, he attended the U.S. Navy Senior Enlisted Academy and reported for duty onboard the USS Duluth (LPD-6) as the Command Master Chief. He assumed his current position as the command master chief for Naval Hospital Beaufort in October 2003.

Curley’s awards include the Navy and Marine Corps Commendation Medal with gold star, the Navy and Marine Corps Achievement Medal with two gold stars and the Good Conduct Medal with five bronze stars.
